SUN BEAMS

By WALTER M. BARRETT

Perhaps no group of people is more interested in the conservation of the fish in the Truckee River than the businessmen and other residents of Truckee who depend upon fishing as one of their principal sources of income. And yet charges are being made in various sections that Truckee is deliberately standing in the path of legislation which will save the trout from slaughter and permit increased propagation of the stream. These charges are not only untrue, but harmful to the best welfare of the district. A bill to change the opening date of the season was introduced to affect Truckee and surrounding communities without any solicitation of opinions or suggestion from those most interested and probably better informed on conditions. Truckee almost to a man knows conditions on the local streams better than most of those who propose changes and yet no word of advice was asked for. Each year businessmen are solicited to provide funds to keep the river stocked. This method in the opinion of many, is the only way to keep a large supply of trout in the stream for summer visitors. Still our opinion as to the way the fish should be protected was not asked. Experts say there are more fish in the river this season than for many years, despite the lack of a full-time warden to protect them against illegal fishermen and this proposed change in the season opening has brought about a certain amount of wonder and consternation on the part of local interests. We reitierate that Truckee businessmen, above everyone else, should and will do all that is possible to keep the river stocked and open for fishermen and will support any legislation to further the sport in this territory, but we do not wonder that they are concerned over methods attempted to take the matter out of their hands.

Truckee is fortunate in having a full-time warden at last. With the water in the river at a low ebb and trout in numerous quantities, fears were felt that they would be easy prey to illegal market fishermen. We are confident the warden is a good one, who will grant no favor and harbor no fear and we hope he never has occasion to make an arrest. It is better to prevent a misdemeanor than to mete out punishment for a transgressor.

Brisk morning winds still cover our walks with a scattering of debris but a great improvement is noted since the storekeepers decided that the best way to keep the town tidy was to do it themselves. One or two slip up once in while but, on the whole, the town offers a far more pleasing appearance.

Programs are being sponsored by both churches for Easter. It would be a fine thing if everyone would turn out and make the occasion the biggest Easter Truckee ever experienced. The program s are well worthy of attendance.

American Legion To Hold Special Meet On Building

Committee To Visit Portola For Ideas To Use

INSIST ON AUDITORIUM

Supervisors Will Hold Meet On May 2 to Discuss Proposals

A special meeting of Truckee Post No. 439, American Legion, has been called by Commander Charles Pierce for Tuesday evening, April 11, at which time definite action is expected on the type of structure for the Veterans' Memorial Building to be erected here. Recommendations will be offered the board of supervisors at a meeting of that body called for May 2.

This was decided at a meeting on Tuesday night when a general discussion was held relative to the various suggestions offered for the building which centered about the inclusion of a gymnasium, even if it meant the exclusion of an auditorium.

The most prevelant opinion among the Legionnaires is that the building should include a combined auditorium-gymnasium, but that if this course is impossible, that the auditorium at least be secured. The urgent need for a gymnasium is apparent but it was pointed out that if the building is to be self-sustaining then plans must be made along that line as well as to fulfill a desire and need for the gymnasium, which could not be expected to be a source of sufficient revenue.

The building committee, which has full charge of the building details for the American Legion, will make a trip to Portola Sunday to interview Legionnaires there and inspect the building which has been erected as a memorial. It is hoped to be able to work out a satisfactory arrangement so that when the supervisors meet in May the recommendations will be unanimous and not cause friction or delay when the time for starting the building arrives.

A proposal was also made and will be acted upon at the special meeting Tuesday, to erect signs at either entrance of Truckee calling motorists attention to the traffic laws and making them welcome to the town at the same time.

Details Of Hobart CCC Camp Revealed By Forest Official

Army To Be In Charge Of Construction Of Camp

Supervisor DeWitt Nelson of the Tahoe National Forest has received notice that appropriations have been made for construction of a new CCC camp at Hobart Mills. The new camp will take the place of the Tahoe-Ukiah camp which will now become a "spike" camp for the Civilian Conservation Corps boys. The army has charge of the construction of the camp and it is probable the new quarters will be completed in time for occupancy this spring.

Several changes are being made in the CCC camp locations this year and it had been announced by Robert Fechner, director, that three camps will be reestablished; one at Meek's Bay and one each in Placer and El Dorado counties. This will be effective during the enrollment period between April 1 and September 30. Camps at Auburn, Placer County and Grass Valley, Nevada County, are to be closed.

COUNTY'S SHARE OF LIQUOR TAX GIVES NEVADA OVER $5000

SACRAMENTO, April 6 —(UP)— California counties were apportioned $1,222,192 as their share of liquor license fees collected during the last half of 1938, the State Board of Equalization disclosed today.

Total fees from sale of liquor licenses were double the amount earmarked for the counties--or $2,444,384 The other half, minus administration costs, goes to the state general fund.

On the basis of licenses issued Nevada County was apportioned a sum of $5,876, of which $2,530.29 was for unincorporated areas.

Twice a year the state allocates half the license revenue to counties. The amount allocated during the first half is considerably larger than during the last half, the board explained, because a majority of licenses are renewable during the first six-months period.

The current allocation is higher by $230,000 than a year ago, the board said. It constitutes revenue from sale of licenses for alcholic beverages exclusively.

MISS KEETCH WAS LOCAL CONTESTANT IN COUNTY CONTEST

Miss Lois Keetch of Meadow Lake Union High School competed in the California Crusaders public speaking contest in Grass Valley for county honors last Friday. Doreen Beckerleg of Grass Valley won the contest but according to reports from the west end of the county showed that both girls had excellent training and their subject matter was outstanding and fully developed.

Elmer Stevens, Grass Valley High School English instructor, stated that the contest was sopnsored by the Crusaders, a non-partisan, non-political organization, and had Americanism as its basis.

Both girls showed excellent training and were so able in their delivery and subject matter that the judges had to give full consideration to all phases upon which the young orators were judged. The voting was close, but unanimous, in favor of Miss Beckerleg. Judges were Rev. Charles F. Washburn, Dr. Henry Mills, Edmund G. Kinyon and Robert Deward.

Total Precipitation at Truckee for the month of March was 3.71 inches, which is .44 inches below the March normal, according to District Ranger H. I. Snider. Precipitation for the entire season, since September 1, has been 18.25 inches, or 2.49 inches under normal.

Club Says Only 100,000 Trout To Be Raised Here

Seeks Opinion Of Residents On Desirability Of This Amount

HALF USUAL NUMBER

Mentions Interest in Bill To Change Opening Of Season

D. E. Kessler, president of the San Francisco Flycasting Club, this week informed the Sierra Sun that the possibilities of procuring more than 100,000 trout fry for feeding and planting in the Truckee River this season seem uncertain.

Kessler wrote that he had been in communication with officials of the fish and game division relative to the number of trout available for raising and that it now appears that 100,000 will be the limit for local allocation.

In making the announcement, the club official solicited the opinion of Truckee interests in supporting this comparatively small allotment. In pas years between 170,000 and 200,000 fry have been available for raising at the flycasting club's tanks.

Kessler also was apparently much interested in Truckee's opposition to the proposed senate bill to alter the opening date of the trout season in this district and urged that the objection be discontinued. He indicated that there is a possibility of the streams being closed unless such a bill is passed.

TVFD HOST TO 300 AT ANNEX OPENING

Members of the Truckee Volunteer Fire Department were hosts last Saturday to some 300 residents of Truckee at an open-house reception held in the new addition of the fire station.

TRUCKEE RIVER TO HAVE FULL- TIME GAME WARDEN

For a time at least the Truckee River and surrounding region will have the protection of a full-time game warden.

Warden William LaMarr of Nevada City, a member of the flying squad, has been permanently stationed in Truckee and has moved his family here.

LaMarr three weeks ago apprehended two violators fishing on the river out of season. Indications were that they were only a small portion of the number fishing out of season and it was found advisable to station a man here.

NAPOLEON'S GHOST———

The career of Adolph Hitler is at once dazzling, terrifying, incredible—and remindful of the Corsican scouBrge whose enormous power at last crumbled againist British bayonets at Waterloo. The parallel, to date, is striking. Hitler, like Napoleon, began as an obscure army corporal. Each seized on cicumstances of internal unrest and turmoil to rise spectacularly to national authority. Each welded his country's man-power into a mighty military machine. Each began his ruthless march to European dominance by striking lightning-swift blows at victim peoples divided by indecision and fear. Will that parallel continue to the end? Napoleon tackled Russia. The great Slav Bear could not oppose his legions, but the struggle so weakened him that the end, at the hands of dogged, patient Britain, was inevitable. Now Hitler moves likewise—while the Slav Bear snarls defiance. And Britain, who never has suffered for long the domination of continental Europe by one power, again waits, retreats, concedes and prepares! Another Waterloo must come. When? Where? How? No one knows.

A LIGHTED CIGARETTE———

A lighted cigarette could almost ruin California's largest industry—recreation. he condition of our forests is not such that a forest fire could nt start and every precaution should be taken to prevent a conflgration. If you don't have an ash tray in your car, buy one—or put the butt out under your heel on the car floor. DO NOT THROW A LIGHTED CIGARETTE FROM YOUR CAR!

THE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE———

(by John L. Riddell, Asst. Att'y Gen'l of Nebraska)

The country newspaper is the real voice of the people. The small town businessman is the backbone of commerce, the farmer the base of subsistence.

The country editor in daily touch with the merchant, farmer and man-on-the-street hears what the people think. That is freedom of speech. The editor puts these thoughts into print. And this is freedom of the press.

Is it effective? It was the farmer and small businessman, making known his opposition to the N.R.A., through the medium of the country press, that rendered that oppressive act ineffective, long before the unanimous decision of the Supreme Court consigned it to the ashcan.

One need not bother to read a Gallup poll on any truly national question. If one has a digest of the editorials of the country press, it will be known before the poll is published what America is thinking and what the people are saying.

No advertising subsidy or canned editorials in the country newspaper, Often the editor does not know how next week's pay roll will be met. But somehow it is met and the voice of the people speaks on. Like Old Man River, it ust keeps rolling along, telling day by day what America is thinking and saying.

The country newspaper is the most American thing in America, because it is the voice of the people of America. When that voice speaks, the world listens, and takes heed.

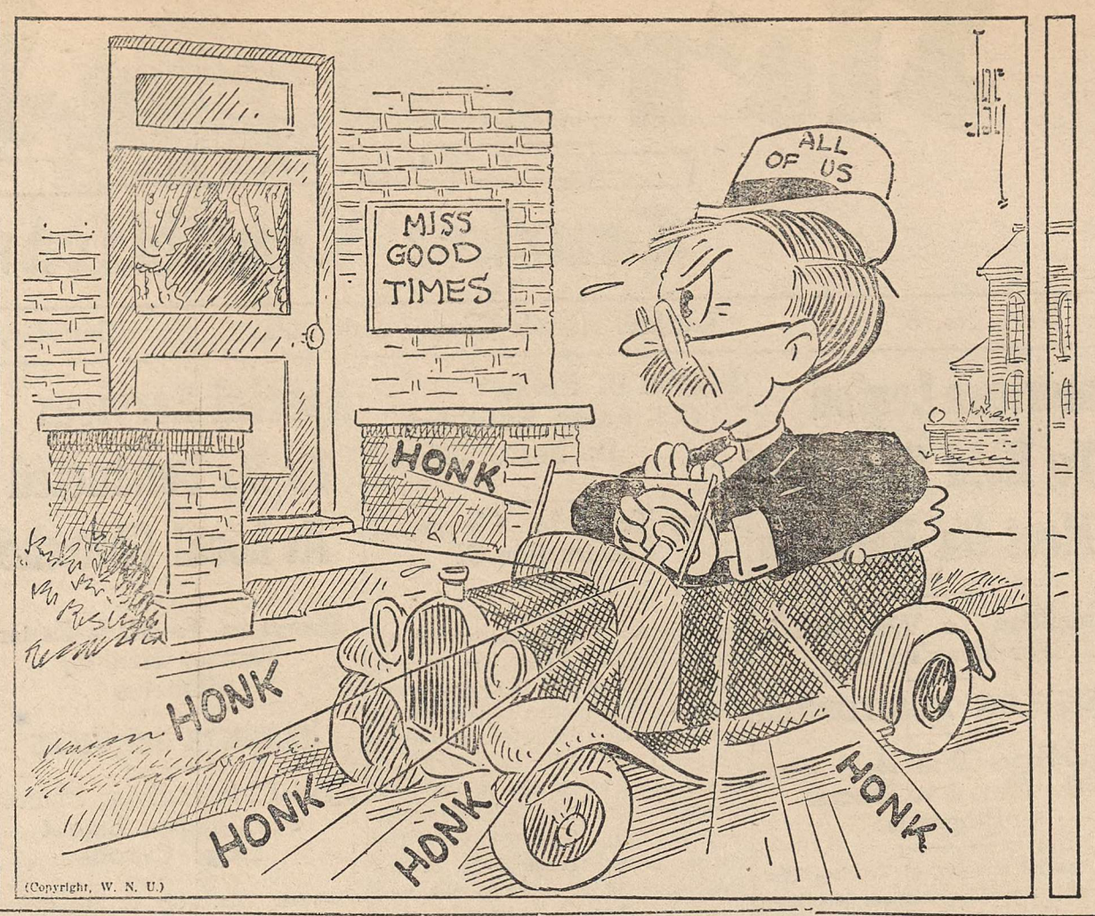
Just Like a Woman to Keep a Fellow Waiting



POLITICALLY SPEAKING

by JOHN W. DUNLAP
United Press Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, April 6 —(UP)— Assembly Republicans and the Olson administration have created a fancy stalemate over the budget, a situation that is likely to have a major influence on a long procession of showdown bills coming up for vote.

The Republican minority knows it holds the balance of power and is not being pushed around in any sense. The Assembly requires 54 votes for a majority passage and the Democrats have only 44, with several members usually absent because of sickness or othre causes. Thus the Bourbons must snare at least 10 votes from the Republican ranks and that's where the shoe pinches.

Chief bone of contention to date is some $30,000,000 in proposed economies suggested by the Republicans for the Governor's $557,000,000 budget The Governor told his lower house spokesmen he didn't want the budget changed and they defended it on the floor as an "honest budget—one that will take care of the state for the entire biennium without a flood of deficiency bills."

Apparently the first concession from the administration was agreement to withdraw an item of $200,000 for a health insurance study and resubmit it as a seperate bill. The demand was one of 200 amendments on the list proposed by the economy bloc.

The amendments can be passed by 41 votes, which the Republicans say the can command. While the subject is open to conjecture, refusal of the Democrats to make compromises may goad the Republicans into a coalition to block final pasage, which would be rather disastrous under state law.

The whys and wherefores of passing the budget are slightly confusing to the layman. The simplest thing is the required two-thirds majority and there's no argument. ut under the Riley-Stewart law, the lack of a two-thirds vote automatically cuts back the budget by 88 per cent, based on an allowable 5 per cent increase per year since the base of 1931-1933.

From a practical standpoint, such a budget slice would be impossible. It is a safe bet that the Republicans will insist on a cut of some twenty million dollars, then agree to the necessary two-thirds vote. There'll be a lot of debate and wrangling, of course but there has to be a budget.

The threat has been made that perhaps the $73,000,000 item for relief should be removed from the budget and handled in a special appropriation, carefullly earmarked to prevent the money from being spent except as the legislature sees fit. But this is doubtful and rgarded more as a maneuver than real possibility.

There is no man in politics right now more in hot water than State Relief Administrator Dewey Anderson. The former colege proffessor seems beset on all sides by charges of one kind or another. Apparently irked by Republican carping at relief policies, the Assembly Democrats met with the governor at an exclusive Sacramento country club and talked over the situation among themselves.

Upshot was the naming of a special party committee to consider the relief setup with Anderson and Assembly Speaker Paul Peek. The committee included Elmer Lore, North Hollywood; Henry Meehan, Oakland; Edward O'Day, San Francisco; Alfred Robertson, Santa Barbara and Earl Desmond of Sacramento.

It was the second committee to check into the SRA, since Lore's Social Service and Welfare group heard one weekend of startling testimony from Kern County witnesses and decided to go deeper into the subject. Boiled down, the charges were that radical policies influenced the SRA, nepotism was flagrant in the higher brackets, favoritism was shown to labor groups and a new "philosophy" was being forced on administrative employes.

The Governor said he was conducting a seperate investigation of claims that wives and husbands were drawing large checks as SRA executives. He said any such cases would result in dismissal but pointed out that Anderson had been working on the problem for some time.

SENATOR SEAWELL AT ACRAMENTO

(by Clem Whitaker)

Senator Jerrold L. Seawell of Roseville, president pro tiem of the California State Senate, is a husky, lusty fellow who can sing "I've been working on the railroad" with real gusto—because "Jerry" used to do just that!

In a political era notable for "brain trust" theorists and academic experimentalists, the Honorable Mr. Seawell is a refreshing, hard-boiled realist who calls his shots as he sees them.

And an interview with the ex-railroadman who now presides as the Senate's president pro tem, though it produces little in the way of ten-dollar verbiage, quickly gets down to fundamentals. Here we go:

Question: "What do you consider to be the major problem confronting the people of California?"

Answer: "Extravagant spending and exorbitant taxation. We've spent so much on government that we're wrecking the people who support government."

Question: "If that's the case, what do you think the present State Legislature will do about it?"

Answer: "I can't speak for the entire Legislature, but most of the members of the Senate, I believe, will go right down th line for a program of sensible economy and retrenchment, if the taxpayers in their home districts will get busy and make known their sentiments. The public can have anything it wants from the Legislature, if it wants it bad enough to ask for it."

Question: "..let's get down to cases. Governor Olson's budget calls for $63,000,000 in additional taxes. The relief problem is acute; our schools need adequate financing. Under these circumstances, is it possible to live within our present income without sacrificing necessary governmental services?"

Answer: "If the State can't live within its income, it will have failed where its citizens have succeeded. During the depression, most of the people of California tightened up their belts, cut the family overhead, eliminated luxuries—and somehow made outgo balance with income. The State can do that too—if the people want it bad enough to demand it—and no school budget need be cut; no unemployed need go hungry. But we can't do it if money for relief goes into flossy automobiles, State chauffeurs and a fat salary for the relief administrator. We've got to cut out the frills and get down to cases—just like the people back home."

And that, in substance, sums up the views of Senator Seawell, the Senate's president pro tem.

If the people demand economy, he predicts, they will get it. But if they want lawmakers to "bring home the bacon" in governmental luxuries, they willget that—and new taxes with it Mr. Seawell has heard from home. His pepople, he says, want economy—and he intends to give it to them!

Tahoe . . . . Ramblings . .

By Anne B. Anderson

Dr. George Hinkle and daughter Marilyn of Lakeview Drive, returned Sunday from a short business trip to San Francisco. Miss Sue Hinkle, of the University of California at Berkeley, will arrive at Tahoe today for the Easter vacation. Miss Hinkle will be accompanied to Tahoe by her grandmother, Mrs. Emma Gargan of Penryn.. ....

Fred Kohler, Tahoe deputy sheriff and president of the Placer County Peace Afficers Association, will take the fingerprints of all those interested at an early date to send to the Bureau of Civil Identification at Washington, which is in no way connected with the Bureau of Criminal Identification. Many service groups are cooperating in this way, feeling that it is a fine thing to make one's identification postitive in case of an unusual emergency. All those interested should leave their names within th next two weeks with any high school student of employee or at the library so that Mr. Kohler can make the necessary preparation..... ....

Dog Flags Train To Save Canine Pal Says Trainmen

Maybe we're wrong, but while we are waiting for a man to make news by biting a dog, we're under the impression thta it's news when a dog flags a train.

Anyway here's the yarn, vouched for by E. L. King, superintendent of Southern Pacific's Portland division, who had it straight from Engineer Roy Hall and Fireman J. K. Mills:

"Recently," said King, "while Hall and Mills were piloting a freight train over Southern Pacifics Springfield-Woodburn branch, they noticed a large collie dog sitting between the rails a short distance ahead.

"As the train approached, the dog ran to a thicket alongside the right-of-way, then back to the center of the track, where it remained until the engine was about 50 feet away.

"The peculiar actions of the animal prompted the engineer to reduce his speed, whereupon the fireman observed another dog trapped in the strands of a wire fence. Stopping their train, the engine crew released the captive, a shepard, which was slowly choking to death.

" And, believe it or not, Engineer Hall and Fireman Mills are certain that the collie and the shepard said 'Thanks, pals' before trotting happily away."

WITH YOUR ASSEMBLYMAN, THURMAN

(by Assemblyman Allen G. Thurman)

With the state's largest budget in history before the lower house the past week, your legislators were flooded with telegrams and letters urging them to stop tax increases and to cooperate in any move toward a substantial reduction in the state budget. Your assemblyman received tlegrams, letters and even telephone calls from all parts of the district urging economy. And as we write hese lines we are reminded that our campaign platform contained this statement: "I am for sane legislation and economy in government."

One of the tlegrams the writer received contained this statement: "Conditions do not warrant increase in taxes. Use every effort to stop any increase."

And we might add right here that Democrats as well as Republicans in both houses received similar telegrams. Your representative received more than twenty-five such telegrams.

The only correspondence the writer received favoring increased taxes were two resolutions from the organization known as the Workers' Alliance whose president is an alleged Communist. This high pressure organization which collects dues from people on relief is demanding that the legislators instead of approving $73,660,000 for relief for the next two years make the appropriation $110,000,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Taxpayer, how do you like paying taxes for relief only to see some of your money go toward the support of an organization whose leadership is under an alleged Communist who is telling your legislators that they must budget not $73,660,000 but $110,000,000 for relief? The letter from this organization closes with this last line: "May we have your reply at the earliest possible moment?" Well, here is your representative's reply: I'll not vote any $110,000,000 and not even $73,660,000 in the budget. The only relief money that I will vote for will be an appropriation over which the legislature can have some control as how it is to be spent. I'll not vote any money for relief purposes which are to be used for the purchase of high-priced automobiles for the administrative office or for the employment of both man and wife in the relief set-up. I'll vote sufficient money for the unemployed and the needy persons but I'll not vote large sums of money in the form of a blank check for some politician to spend to help feather his own nest and build up a powerful political organization at the expense of the tax payers. And I will feel more like voting relief money if the present administration will kick Communists out of the relief picture. If these Communists really want to do something for the needy, we suggest that they go to Russia where their assistance will be appreciated, instead of trying to tell the legislators to add to the taxpayers load and thereby make their "racket" a permanent one. For the needy we again say we will vote ampl relief money but for the high pressure racketeers, not one cent.

The whole relief set-up is now under fire. I need not tell the readers of this newspaper th particulars because the story has appeared already n most newspapers. Even members of th majority party are demanding the Communistic influence be taken out of relief and the sooner that is done the better it will be for the people on relief.

Your Assemblyman assisted by two other legislators was able to defeat a bill in the lower house last week that had for its purpose the closing of the highway patrol registration stations five of which are located in the 6th Assembly District. The vote against the bill was 44 to 26. As a result these stations which not only collect caravan and truck fees but also serve in the apprehending of criminals, will continue to be operated in Nevada Alpine, El Dorado, Inyo and Mono counties as in other parts of the state

We were fortunate last week in being able to have the Judiciary Codes Committee favorably pass on five of our bills and hope that we can be as successful this week when they come up for a vote in the lower house.

McNUTT BOOSTED TO CONGRESSMEN BY HIS CAMPAIGN HEAD

WASHINGTON, April 6 —(UP)— Paul V. McNutt's campaign for the 1940 Democratic presidential nomination hit the capital today with the former Hoosier governor significantly billed as "the budget balancer" and dispenser of prosperity.

Congressional Democrats were summoned to support him to restore party harmony. His candidacy was formally presented by Frank McHale, campaign manager, in letters to Democrats in the national legislature.

"People prospered in Indiana," McHale's first McNutt pamphlet said, "because of Governor McNutt's fair dealing with agriculture, labor and industry."

One page of the pamphlet, tucked in the letter, was devoted to McNutt's gubernatorial record under the black type heading: "The Budget Balance."

McNutt now is high commissioner to the Philippines. He is expected to return this summer, report to President Roosevelt on far eastern conditions and resign to devote himself to presidential politics.

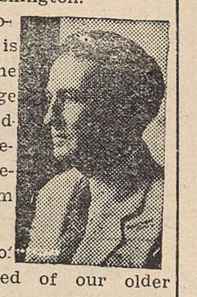
Downey Hits New Deal Social Security Act As Failure Over National Broadcast Sunday

Speaking in defense of the Townsend plan, Senator Sheridan Downey of California Saturday attacked the Social Security Act in a Nation-wide broadcast from Washington.



"The present Social Security Act is a tragic failure," he charged. "The large majority of our older people who require assistanle receive nothing from it."

Downey spoke of the "despairing need of our older generation. No one can qualify under it unless he is more than 65. And millionsof our older generation are less than that age."

"And what of those past 65 who receive pensions? On an average they are paid less than $20 a month—a sum sufficient to support them miserably."

"Search through history of every time and race and you will not find another civilization which has so failed in its obligation to its aged," he said.

"Our society uses our workers until it needs them no longer, then throws them out of their jobs and degades them to despair.

"I do not mean the American people are ungenerous. On the contrary, the history of our nation is one of justice and generosity. Our neglect of our senior citizens springs not from inhumanity but from a failure to understand the need of a just pension program."

Downey said for many years he had been committed to the belief that Dr. Townsend has revealed to the people what should be their major instrument of recovery.

"I am convinced that the Townsend Plan, by widely distributing purchasing power, would stimulate the national production of wealth and thereby so decrease unemployment that the wages of workers would atuomatically be increased to a far greater extent than the burden of increased taxation upon our present pay rolls."

"In the Senate of the United States it shall have my energetic and devoted support and I shall consistently and continuously seek to write into the basic laws of this Nation a new sacred and fundamental right—the right of the senior citizen to peace, dignity and security."

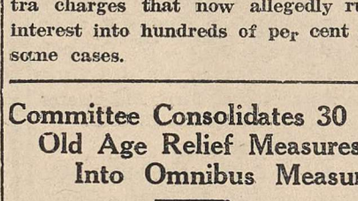
Committee Consolidates 30 Old Age Relief Measures Into Omnibus Measure

SACRAMENTO, April 6 —(UP)— the touchy problem of what changes to make in the state's old age pension system will be attacked by the Assembly Social Welfare Committee soon.

The committe decided to incorporate in one blanket bill alteration proposed in about 30 seperate measures.

The proposals to be discussed are to divide the pension cost between the state and counties on a 75-25 per cent basis instead of 50-50; set up rules for detremining in which cases children would be responsible for their aged parents' support, set up a method whereby the state could be reimbursed from pensioners' proprety holdings after death; permit inmates of fraternal homes to recieve pensions and authorize any increase in the Federal contribution for pensions tc be passed on directly to the recipients of aid.



Man The At The Keyhole

(BY OPERATIVE WB)

Dr. H. Dewey Anderson, Governor Olosn's talkative State releif administrator, may not last long in his new $10,000 berth, our spy advises. Reason: Too much Communism and nepotism in the relief set-up. And Olson cabinet members blame Dr. Anderson for most of the "heat" that has been turned on the Governor. Consequently, there's a move on foot to "promote" the good doctor to a professorship in ideology, or something of the sort, and put relief in charge of a business-type executive.

Former Lieutenant Governor George J. Hatfield has returned to his first love—the Flying H Ranch near Newman, Merced County—and has become a full-time (sun-up to sun-down) working farmer. Genial George talks cows now, instead of politics—and likes the cows better. "If you take care of a cow," says he, "you can usually figure how much milk she'll give."

The tax revolt in the back country has reached such proportions that our man with his ear to the ground reports the half billion dollar State budget is definitely on the skids.
